

bet 365 empresa

The primary difference between a full frame and crop sensors is simply the physical size of the sensor. Full frame sensors are 35mm x 24mm while crop sensors are smaller than this and can vary in dimensions. Sensors come in several sizes, have varying characteristics and wildly differing prices.

What is the Difference Between a Full Frame Sensor and a Crop Sensor?

maxfosterphotography : gallery : difference-between-full-frames-and-crop-sensors

Autor: pittsburghscubacenter.net
Assunto: bet 365 empresa
Palavras-chave: bet 365 empresa
Tempo: 2024/8/5 6:56:32