Illegal gaming is a misdemeanor carrying up to 6 months in jail and a fine of $1,000. Though gambling becomes a crime whenever there is a bank or a place where people play games of chance, the law is not as strict as it once was. In fact, many states have legalized gambling in some form or another. In some cases, the law is so strict that it is almost impossible to play any game of chance without being caught. In other cases, the law is so lax that it is almost impossible to play any game of chance without being caught.
